Spotting Leaks, Strengthening the System

The City is tackling water waste with cutting-edge satellite tech. Hidden leaks have already been found and fixed—more improvements are on the way.

Curious what the satellite uncovered? Visit our City website and watch the video on our YouTube channel.

City Pawprint: No-Kill, No Limits - Just Love

Big news—Truth or Consequences Animal Shelter is now New Mexico's first municipal no-kill shelter! With a 95% live release rate, the team is saving more lives through fostering, rehab, and creative placements. 🐾 Discover how they made it happen and how you can help on our website.

Police Expand Community Programs

TorC Police are stepping up safety! Learn how the new Security Camera Registration and Home Watch programs can help protect your home—especially while you're away. Read more on our website.

City Launches Vector Spraying Program

Mosquito season is here, and TorC is on it. Nighttime spraying starts in July to protect public health—there are options for residents to request or decline service. Want to know when and where spraying happens—and how you can help? See the News on the city website.

When brushing your teeth or washing your hands, turn off the tap to save 1.3 gallons of water per minute!
